2015 EPAS | INTERPRETATION GUIDE

for Baccalaureate and Master's Social Work Programs

version 9.2023

This official companion document to the 2015 Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards \(EPAS\) provides programs with information for navigating the accreditation process and understanding the Board of Accreditation's \(BOA\) intent and interpretation of the EPAS.

The BOA and the Department of Social Work Accreditation (DOSWA) publish resources, conduct training, and offer year-round consultative services to support accreditation efforts.

Purpose of the Interpretation Guide:

- Further clarify the BOA's expectations for programs to meet each accreditation standard
- Provide guidance for developing clear and concise written compliance narratives in accreditation documents

As social work education programs continue 2015 EPAS implementation, the BOA and the Department of Social Work Accreditation (DOSWA) publish resources, conduct training, and offer year-round consultative services to support accreditation efforts.

How to Use This Guide:

- Use the quick links below to navigate to the section of your choice.
- If searching for a specific standard, perform a search/find to locate the standard quickly.
- Use this guide as a final checklist before submitting a document to the BOA to ensure each component of each standard is clearly addressed in the narrative.
 - The primary reason for a citation is the narrative fails to clearly address one or more components of the standard.

Please note:

- This guide will be periodically updated by the BOA and DOSWA.
- Accreditation information is subject to change.
- When updates occur, programs' primary contacts are notified, the guide is posted publicly on CSWE's website, and recent clarifications are highlighted.
- Clarified interpretations are effective immediately after each BOA meeting.
- Always confirm that the program is utilizing the most current version of this document when implementing the 2015 EPAS and/or writing an accreditation document by visiting the accreditation webpages at www.cswe.org.
- Programs are solely responsible for implementing, demonstrating, and maintaining compliance with the EPAS at all times.

UNDERSTANDING ACCREDITATION

Accreditation is a system for recognizing educational institutions and professional programs affiliated with those institutions as having a level of performance, integrity, and quality that entitles them to the confidence of the educational community and the public they serve. The purposes of accreditation are:

- Quality assurance
- Academic improvement
- Professional preparation
- Public accountability

Accreditation is a developmental, reflective, and renewal process by which program stakeholders craft educational experiences to prepare competent social work practitioners. The process expands beyond quality control, and can be the impetus for innovation, experimentation, and program improvement. While accreditation is reviewed at periodic intervals, programs are expected to maintain compliance between review cycles.

Accreditation is a peer-review process, accomplished via dedicated volunteer contributions of the Board of Accreditation (BOA) members and site visitors. The DOSWA staff liaise between the BOA and the program, providing services, education, and training opportunities; disseminating accreditation policies and procedures; and furnishing BOA decision letters to programs.

CSWE's BOA is recognized by the Council on Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) to accredit baccalaureate and master's degree programs in the United States and its territories.

The professional judgments of the BOA are based on the Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) developed by the Commission on Educational Policy (COEP) and the BOA.

As a CHEA-recognized programmatic accrediting body, the BOA, and their partnership with COEP, are responsible for revising the EPAS at periodic intervals not to exceed seven (7) years.

The BOA is composed of fellow social work educators, practitioners, and one public member. BOA members are volunteers with a background in social work education, active CSWE membership with at least two-years site visitor experience and are appointed for three-year terms.

The BOA convenes three (3) times per year: February, June, and October/November.

The BOA is the sole and final arbiter of compliance. Social work programs are solely responsible for implementing, demonstrating, and maintaining compliance with the 2015 EPAS.

2015 EPAS FRAMEWORK

Program Option Types and Definitions:

EPAS references to “curriculum” equate to the social work program curriculum, not general education requirements or non-social work curricula. This includes both generalist and specialized social work curricula. If a student can complete 51% or more of the program (i.e., curriculum) online, that constitutes an online program option. Fully online generalist curriculum, specialized curriculum, or advanced standing programs are also considered online program options.

Program Options: Various structured pathways to degree completion by which social work programs are delivered including specific methods and locations such as on campus, off campus, and virtual instruction (2015 EPAS, pg. 22). Program options are not plans/calendars of study, such as advanced standing, full-time, part-time, 16-months, two-years, weekend, evening, night, etc.; nor are they population-based plans such as an adult learning option.

1. In-person/Face-to-Face/Traditional – Any physical location in which the instructor(s) and student(s) are concurrently in-person together. This allows for live synchronous interaction between instructors and students.

1a. Main/Primary Campus – A majority, 51% or more, of the curriculum is delivered in-person at a primary physical location, such as a main campus.

1b. Branch/Satellite Campus – A majority, 51% or more, of the curriculum is delivered in-person at a location physically detached from the main campus.

2. Distance Education – Any curriculum delivery method in which there is a separation, in time or place, between the instructor(s) and student(s). This includes both synchronous (real-time) and asynchronous (self-paced or pre-recorded) education models.

2a. Online – A majority, 51% or more, of the curriculum is delivered online.

2b. Broadcast Site – A majority, 51% or more, of the curriculum is broadcasted via television, audio, telephone, internet radio, livestream, computer-based video, or other modes of technology to students collectively convened in-person at program-established classroom location(s) physically detached from the main campus. Each physical classroom location to which the curriculum is broadcasted is considered a separate program option.

2c. Correspondence – The whole curriculum is delivered through mailing materials (e.g., videos, texts, assignments) electronically or through the post to students.

The following are not identified as a distinct program option:

3. Learning Site – Sites where only limited portions (50% or less) of the curriculum is offered offsite at a location physically detached from the main campus. A learning site is not considered an additional program option. A learning site does not require a Substantive Change Proposal and should not be identified as a distinct program option in accreditation-related documents.

4. Hybrid/Blended – Locations where a majority (51% or more) of the curriculum is delivered at a previously established CSWE-approved location (e.g., main campus, branch campus) and limited portions (50% or less) of the curriculum is delivered online. This model includes 50% or less of courses delivered fully virtually. This model may also include any percentage of individual hybrid/blended courses delivered partially in-person and partially virtually. A hybrid curriculum design is not considered an additional program option. Rather, it is a face-to-face program option with online course offerings/elements. A hybrid curriculum design does not require a Substantive Change Proposal and should not be identified as a distinct program option in accreditation-related documents.

Addressing Program Options in Accreditation Documents

- Programs may elect to implement an accreditation standard the same or differently for each program option.
- Explicitly address each program option in response to each standard. Provide either:
 - An explicit statement that the program’s response applies to all program options; or
 - A separately labeled response for each program option with an explanation of how the standard is implemented the same or differently across program options.

The following provides general guidance, regarding EPAS compliance plans that may be the same or different across program options:

1) Program compliance narratives that may be the same across all program options and require an explicit narrative explanation, include the following accreditation standards (AS):

AS 1.0.1	AS 2.2.6	AS 3.2.3	AS M3.3.4(b)
AS 1.0.3	AS 2.2.11	AS B3.2.4	AS M3.3.4(c)
AS B2.0.1	AS B3.1.1	AS M3.2.4	AS 3.3.5
AS B2.0.2	AS M3.1.1	AS 3.2.5	AS 3.3.5(a)
AS B2.0.3	AS 3.1.2	AS 3.2.6	AS B3.3.5(b)
AS M2.0.1	AS M3.1.3	AS 3.2.7	AS B3.3.5(c)
AS M2.0.2	AS 3.1.4	AS 3.3.1	AS M3.3.5(b)
AS M2.0.3	AS 3.1.5	AS 3.3.4	AS M3.3.5(c)
AS 2.2.1	AS 3.1.7	AS B3.3.4(a)	AS 3.3.6
AS B2.2.2	AS 3.1.8	AS B3.3.4(b)	AS 3.4.1
AS M2.2.2	AS 3.2.1	AS B3.3.4(c)	AS 3.4.4
AS M2.2.3	AS 3.2.2	AS M3.3.4(a)

2) Program compliance narratives that may be different across all program options and require an explicit narrative explanation, include the following standards:

AS 1.0.2	AS 2.2.8	AS 3.1.9	AS 4.0.1
AS M2.1.1	AS B2.2.9	AS 3.1.10	AS 4.0.2

* This is general guidance only and may not be applicable to your program’s unique context and operations.

Notable Language Changes from the 2008 EPAS to the 2015 EPAS

- Foundation practice is now termed Generalist practice.
- Advanced practice is now termed Specialized practice.
- Concentration is now termed Area of Specialized Practice.
 - a. Area of Specialized Practice is an umbrella term that gives the program autonomy to use a term of their choice, including concentrations, specializations, focus areas, advanced practice areas, tracks, or other terms.
- Practice behavior was simplified to Behavior.

It is advisable and highly encouraged to adopt and implement the language of the 2015 EPAS as using alternative terminology may lead to confusion during the review process. If a program elects to use different terms, the program must draw equivalency in their accreditation documents between the EPAS language and program-specific language. Programs can select their own terminology to describe field education (e.g., experience, internship, placement, practice, practicum).

Understanding Social Work Competencies

The 2015 EPAS recognizes competence as holistic; this means that the demonstration of competence is informed by the appropriate knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes.

Dimensions

Each of the nine social work competencies listed in the 2015 EPAS is followed by a paragraph that describes the competency. This description contains dimensions of the competency necessary for learning and developing competence throughout the course of a program. The dimensions are:

- Knowledge
- Values
- Skills
- Cognitive and Affective Processes

This is one (1) dimension and should not be separated into two (2) distinct dimensions for accreditation purposes.*

Knowledge generally includes learning the competencies and social work concepts.

Skills generally include the ability to apply or demonstrate competencies and social work concepts.

The definition of Values is located in Educational Policy 1.0:

Service, social justice, the dignity and worth of the person, the importance of human relationships, integrity, competence, human rights, and scientific inquiry are among the core values of social work. These values underpin the explicit and implicit curriculum and frame the profession's commitment to respect for all people and the quest for social and economic justice.

The definition of Cognitive and Affective Processes is located on pg. 20 of the 2015 EPAS:

Cognitive and affective processes (includes critical thinking, affective reactions, and exercise of judgment):

- Critical thinking is an intellectual, disciplined process of conceptualizing, analyzing, evaluating, and synthesizing multiple sources of information generated by observation, reflection, and reasoning.
- Affective reactions refer to the way in which our emotions influence our thinking and subsequently our behavior.
- Exercise of judgment is the capacity to perceive and discern multiple sources to form an opinion.

Dimensions are features of holistic competence: students require social work knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective process to be competent social work practitioners.

The paragraph description and dimensions as written in the EPAS for each competency should be reflected in the generalist social work curriculum. The curriculum also prepares students for the demonstration of competence through the behaviors associated with each competency in real or simulated practice situations (defined on pg. 22 of the 2015 EPAS).

Behaviors

The bullet points under the paragraph description for each competency in the EPAS are a set of behaviors that integrate the dimensions of the competency. Behaviors are the observable actions/components of the competency (defined on pg. 20 of the 2015 EPAS). Competence in real or simulated practice can only be demonstrated by behavior, and behavior cannot be demonstrated without incorporation of the knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes associated with the competency. Thus, behaviors in the 2015 EPAS are only required in assessment of competency-based student learning outcomes in real (i.e., field education settings) or simulated practice (defined on pg. 22 of the 2015 EPAS) situations.

All four (4) competency dimensions are mapped in the explicit curriculum via the curriculum matrix (AS B2.0.3; AS M2.0.3; and AS M2.1.4), and a minimum of two (2) are assessed via competency-based student learning outcomes (AS 4.0.1).

Understanding Generalist Practice and Specialized Practice

Generalist Practice

Generalist practice is defined as practice with diverse individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Generalist practice is defined in Educational Policy (EP) 2.0 and is:

- Grounded in liberal arts and person-in-environment framework;
- Uses scientific inquiry, ethical principles, and critical thinking in practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels;
- Engages diversity in practice and advocates for human rights and social and economic justice; and
- Recognizes and builds upon the strengths and resiliency of all human beings.

For generalist practice, baccalaureate and master's programs are required to implement the nine social work competencies (as described in the 2015 EPAS pages 7-9) and may add additional competencies in their curricula relevant to their context. For generalist practice, programs must use all behaviors exactly as written in the EPAS and may choose to develop additional behaviors that represent observable components of each competency that integrate the dimensions.

Specialized Practice

For specialized practice (defined on pg. 21 of the 2015 EPAS), programs develop their area(s) of specialized practice by creating competency descriptions relevant to each respective area of specialized practice.

For each area of specialized practice, programs must extend and enhance the nine social work competencies and any additional competencies added by the program by describing the dimensions (knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes) that comprise each of the competencies. Extending and enhancing the generalist competencies means "providing students with knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes that are more advanced or more relevant to the area of specialized practice."

To extend and enhance the competencies for each area of specialized practice, programs must:

- Write a specialized competency description for each of the competencies (AS M2.1.3)
- Incorporate the four (4) dimensions into the competency description
- Use the competencies and dimensions to design the curriculum

- Show how the curriculum is built around the knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes necessary to develop competence as described for each competency for each area of specialized practice
- Develop specialized behaviors for each competency
 - These behaviors integrate the dimensions so that students can perform/demonstrate competence in real or simulated practice situations (e.g., field education settings)
 - Behaviors are the observable components of the competency

For some areas of specialized practice, for competencies 6-9, programs may extend and enhance those systems levels of practice (e.g., individuals, families, groups, organizations, and/or communities) that pertain to that specialization. For example, a program with a clinical specialization may decide that Competency 7: Assessment, only focuses on individuals, families, and groups and does not include organizations and communities in their competency description or behaviors. However, for some specializations, the program should address all systems levels. Advanced Generalist is one such example, as are population-specific specializations such as Aging, Child and Youth, Addictions, etc. Please consult with the program's accreditation specialist if you have questions about any specializations in your program related to this option.

In the example below, note that the title of the competency is the same for generalist and specialized practice. Programs should not alter the titles of the competencies beyond modifying the relevant systems levels for competencies 6-9. What is different from generalist practice competencies is the specific knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes, as well as behaviors. This reflects an extension and enhancement of the competency for a specific specialization. The CSWE curricular guides are also a resource, many of which feature sample extended and enhanced competencies and behaviors.

Please note that CSWE curricular guides are peer-produced resources by task forces of national content experts. These guides are not created nor vetted by the BOA.

Example competency description and behaviors for gerontological social work practice:

Competency 1: Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior

Practitioners in aging respect the worth, dignity, and integrity of all older people and advocate for their self-determination, access to services, and ethical application of technology. They recognize ethical issues in practice and distinguish frameworks for decision-making that support older adults' needs and rights. To ensure ethical practice, they use self-reflection, self-regulation, and supervision, consultation, and lifelong learning to address how their attitudes and biases about aging and older adults may influence their personal and professional values and behaviors. Gero social workers recognize the dynamics of self-determination and the continuum of decision-making support. Practitioners in aging serve as leaders to ensure ethical practice with older adults and their care networks.

Practitioners in aging with, and on behalf of, older adults and their constituencies:

- Demonstrate awareness of aging-related personal and professional values through self-reflection and self-regulation.
- Select and incorporate ethical decision-making frameworks that integrate social work values.
- Practice in a culturally competent manner that demonstrates recognition of and ability to utilize the principles included in the NASW Code of Ethics, evidence-based knowledge, and relevant legal and policy-related information.
- Recognizing social structural social inequities, advocate within the health and social service communities and as members of interprofessional teams on behalf of older adults and their families.

Adding an Additional Generalist or Specialized Competency

A program may choose to add one (1) or more competencies unique to the program's context. Competencies may be added at the generalist-level only, specialized-level only (for one, multiple, or all specializations), or both levels. Additional competencies do not need to include systems levels (i.e., individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities); Only the dimensions and behaviors must be addressed. For each additional competency, the program must develop a descriptive paragraph, infusing the four (4) dimensions, and also develop corresponding behaviors that will be operationalized in real or simulated practice.

Example additional competencies include, but are not limited to: cultural humility, anti-racism, local/regional/population-based practice (e.g., indigenous peoples, deaf community, immigrants and refugees, rural populations), global practice, military practice, leadership, bio-psycho-social-spiritual approach, and holistic approach.

When an additional competency is added, the following standards are affected: AS B/M2.0.2, AS B/M2.0.3, AS M2.1.2, AS M2.1.3, AS M2.1.4, AS B/M 2.2.2, AS M2.2.3, AS 2.2.7, AS B/M2.2.9, AS 4.0.1, AS 4.0.2, AS 4.0.3, and AS 4.0.4.

Programs adding additional generalist-level competencies must provide the competency descriptive paragraph and corresponding behaviors in AS B/M2.0.3, in a narrative preceding the matrix.

Program adding additional specialized-level competencies must provide the competency descriptive paragraph and corresponding behaviors in AS M2.1.3 in a narrative format.

Relationship Between Generalist and Specialized Practice Curricula

Since programs have the flexibility to structure and rationalize their own formal curriculum design, programs may choose to integrate generalist and specialized practice curricula. It is permissible for generalist courses to contain specialized content and vice-versa. It is not a requirement of the EPAS that the two types of curricula be explicitly distinct or separated with no cross-over. It is also not a requirement of the EPAS that students must complete the full generalist curriculum before entering specialized practice. Ultimately, it is within each program's discretion to design a cohesive curriculum that ensures multi-dimensional competency-based learning, which may include integration of generalist and specialized content within the same course.

For example, master's programs may incorporate a bridge semester or bridge courses. Programs may also begin offering specialized content early and continue offering generalist content throughout the entirety of the program. Courses can intersperse both generalist and specialized content or focus on one or the other. As long as the program has a clear rationale for their formal curriculum design (as documented in AS M2.0.2 and AS M2.1.2) and facilitates multi-dimensional competency-based learning (as evidenced in the curriculum matrices in AS M2.0.3 and AS M 2.1.4), programs have autonomy and discretion in their sequencing, timing, progression, prerequisites, and other elements of the formal curriculum design ensuring that specialized practice builds upon generalist practice.

Curriculum Matrices

Generalist Practice Matrix (B2.0.3 and M2.0.3)

Programs must develop a curriculum matrix that explains how each competency is taught for development of competence throughout the curriculum. The map provides the BOA with an easy reference to how and where each competency is taught, including all four (4) dimensions per each competency. Programs map the nine competencies and all four (4) dimensions for each competency across the curriculum.

At a minimum, the generalist matrix must include:

- The nine social work competencies and any added competencies
- The required course(s) where each competency is demonstrated
- For competencies 6-9, the matrix identifies where individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities are each reflected in the curriculum
- Specific course content (e.g., readings, modules, assignments, class activities) from required courses where each competency is demonstrated; select the strongest examples to include in the matrix, not all required courses/content need be mapped
- The dimension(s) (i.e., knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes) associated with the course content for each competency
- All dimensions for each competency must be addressed somewhere in the curriculum; programs may find that multiple dimensions are covered by one assignment, activity, etc.
- Behaviors are not required in the curriculum matrix

Specialized Practice Matrix (M2.1.4)

Master's programs develop their own competencies that extend and enhance the nine generalist social work competencies and any competencies added by the program. Similar to generalist practice, master's programs must develop a curriculum matrix that explains how each competency is taught for development of competence throughout the curriculum for each area of specialized practice. The matrix provides the BOA with an easy reference to how and where each competency is taught, including all four (4) dimensions per each competency. Programs map the nine competencies and all four (4) dimensions for each competency across the curriculum.

At a minimum the matrix must include:

- The nine social work competencies and any added competencies
- The required course(s) where each competency is demonstrated
- For competencies 6-9, the matrix identifies where the specialization-relevant systems levels (i.e., individuals, families, groups, organizations, and/or communities) are reflected in the curriculum
- Specific course content (e.g., readings, modules, assignments, class activities) from required courses where each competency is demonstrated; select the strongest examples to include in the matrix, not all required courses/content need be mapped
- The dimension(s) (i.e., knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes) associated with the course content for each competency
- All dimensions for each competency must be addressed somewhere in the curriculum; programs may find that multiple dimensions are covered by one assignment, activity, etc.
- Behaviors are not required in the curriculum matrix

Syllabi for Inclusion in Volume 2

Programs must include uniform syllabi for all courses on the curriculum matrices, both at the generalist and specialized levels. It is not necessary to include syllabi for all required courses in the program, unless the program chooses to include all required courses in a matrix. The BOA cross-checks syllabi with courses/content identified on the matrix in order to more fully understand how the program teaches the competencies and dimensions.

Beyond requiring submission of uniform syllabi within accreditation documents, the BOA does not have requirements regarding the content or formatting of syllabi. Content and formatting of syllabi is within the purview of the program. If a curriculum matrix standard (i.e., AS B2.0.3, AS M2.0.3, AS M2.1.4) is cited by the BOA, the program will be asked to resubmit Volume 2. In these instances, programs may submit Volume 2 as a separate document or embed the syllabi within the program's response/report.

Assessment

Multi-Dimensional Assessment (AS 4.0.1)

The 2015 EPAS requires programs to engage in multidimensional assessment. As indicated in previous sections, the four (4) dimensions of the competencies are: knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes. Programs are expected to assess competence by identifying the dimension(s) associated with the competency and measuring students' performance at that level. Each generalist competency description in the EPAS, or developed by master's programs for each area of specialized practice, contains information that corresponds to the knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes necessary to demonstrate competence. At least two (2) dimensions per competency must be assessed. Assessment of behaviors is only required in the assessment of student competence in real or simulated practice situations.

At the baccalaureate level:

- Programs choose their own measures; a minimum of two (2) per competency
 - Programs will have at least nine (9) competencies with two (2) measures per competency
- Programs are required to assess at least two (2) dimensions per competency
 - Programs do not need to assess every dimension for every competency
- One measure must be in real (e.g., field education settings) or simulated practice (defined on pg. 22 of the 2015 EPAS) situations
 - Programs must use the generalist behaviors exactly as written in the EPAS for the real or simulated practice measure (e.g., field instrument)
 - Programs must present behavior-level data if collected via the real or simulated practice measure.
- The second measure can assess any dimension(s) (i.e., knowledge, values, skills, and/or cognitive and affective processes) and may be done via course-embedded measures, end-of-year exams or assignments, portfolios, comprehensive exit exams, etc.

At the master's level:

- Programs are required to assess at least two (2) dimensions per competency at both the generalist level (does not need to include advanced standing students) and specialized practice levels
 - Generalist-level competency is assessed via the competencies and behaviors as written in the EPAS
 - Specialized-level competency is assessed via the competencies and behaviors developed by the program for each area of specialized practice (AS M2.1.3)
- Programs choose their own measures; a minimum of two (2) per competency
 - Programs will have at least nine (9) competencies with two (2) measures per competency for generalist practice
 - Programs will have at least nine (9) competencies with two (2) measures per competency for each area of specialized practice
- Programs are required to measure at least two (2) dimensions per competency
 - Programs do not need to assess every dimension for every competency
- One measure must be in real (e.g., field education settings) or simulated practice (defined on pg. 22 of the 2015 EPAS) situations
 - Programs must use the generalist behaviors exactly as written in the EPAS for the real or simulated practice measure (e.g., field instrument)
 - Programs must present behavior-level data if collected via the real or simulated practice measure.
 - Programs use their own developed behaviors for their area(s) of specialized practice (programs will have developed both competency descriptions and behaviors for each specialization in AS M2.1.3)
 - Programs must present behavior-level data if collected via the real or simulated practice measure.
- The second measure can assess any dimension(s) (i.e., knowledge, values, skills, and/or cognitive and affective processes) and may be done via course-embedded measures, end-of-year exams or assignments, portfolios, comprehensive exit exams, etc.

Assessment of Implicit Curriculum (AS 4.0.5)

This is a new requirement with the 2015 EPAS. Programs will assess one aspect of the implicit curriculum as identified in EP 4.0.

- EP 4.0 states, “Assessment also involves gathering data regarding the implicit curriculum, which may include but is not limited to an assessment of diversity, student development, faculty, administrative and governance structure, and resources. Data from assessment continuously inform and promote change in the explicit curriculum and the implicit curriculum to enhance attainment of Social Work Competencies.”
- Minimally one area of implicit curriculum is required to be assessed
- Examples of implicit assessment instruments include exit surveys, interviews, focus groups, alumni surveys, culture/climate surveys, strategic planning process, etc.
- Competencies, behaviors, dimensions, coursework, etc. are assessment of the explicit curriculum not the implicit curriculum
- Programs assess the implicit curriculum for each program option

Commercial Assessment Instruments and Packages

The BOA does not endorse third-party, commercial, standardized, or customized assessment instruments and packages. Although the BOA does not prohibit the use of these commercial packages, it is the responsibility of programs to use assessment plans with assessment measures that are compliant with the 2015 EPAS.

Field Manual and Student Handbook for Inclusion in Volume 3

Programs must include a social work field manual and student handbook. These two documents comprise Volume 3. Institutions with both baccalaureate and master’s social work programs can combine field manuals and student handbooks, as long as all relevant policies and procedures are included and clearly labeled where they apply to baccalaureate and/or master’s students. The BOA cross-checks the policies and procedures provided in the self-study narrative (Volume 1) with the field manual and student handbook (Volume 3); thus, the content submitted in Volume 1 must match the policies and procedures submitted in Volume 3.

The BOA does not have requirements regarding the content or formatting of the manual and handbook. Content and formatting of the field manual and student handbook is within the purview of the program. If a policy or procedure found in the manual or handbook is cited by the BOA, the program will not be asked to resubmit Volume 3. Rather, the program must submit the exact written policy or procedure and state that the manual or handbook was updated.

NAVIGATING THE ACCREDITATION PROCESS

Preparation

1. Refer to the CSWE accreditation website for all relevant information and resources (e.g., policies, procedures, due dates, forms, samples) to successfully navigate the accreditation process.
 - a. The Accreditation Policy Handbook houses the accreditation policies and procedures. The Handbook will be periodically updated. Accreditation staff are frequently contacted about the following sections.
 - b. The Directory of Accredited Programs details accreditation history, next accreditation review date, and current contact information for all accredited and candidate programs.
 - c. BOA decisions are posted publicly on the CSWE website 30-days after each meeting concludes.
 1. Accreditors are required to publicly post accreditation decisions. CSWE-BOA decisions are posted on the CSWE website.
 2. However, it is not a requirement that programs share, market, or communicate their accreditation status with their stakeholders via their own website or other any other materials.
 3. What, how, and with whom programs share their accreditation status is within their own purview.
 - d. Accreditation presentations covering a variety of high-demand topics are available for download.
2. Accreditation processes are self-managed. Programs will not receive prompts nor reminders.
 - a. Timetables (select the appropriate process and then Timetables) for each agenda date outline what is due, to whom, and when it must be submitted. Add these dates to calendars, as programs will not receive prompts nor reminders.
 - b. The program's agenda date is published in the Directory of Accredited Programs as the next accreditation review date.
 - c. The timetable specifies the fees schedule (select the appropriate process and then Fees). For more information regarding fees or invoicing, please contact feesaccred@cswe.org.
3. For information regarding accreditation trainings, visit the CSWE accreditation website.

Writing an Accreditation Document

4. Self-studies and Benchmark documents are comprised of three (3) volumes and one (1) review brief:
 - a. Volume 1 = narrative response to every accreditation standard, including supporting documentation, compiled into one (1) continuous document
 - i. Optional Tool: Self-study Volume 1 Template

- b. Volume 2 = course syllabi for required courses identified on the curriculum matrix compiled into one (1) continuous document
 - c. Volume 3 = student handbook and field manual compiled into one (1) continuous document
 - d. Review Brief = rubric for evaluating compliance or approval used by the BOA readers
5. Write to the accreditation standard not the educational policies.
- a. Educational policies inform the program’s response to the accreditation standards
 - 1. Educational policies are not to be altered nor need to be copied/pasted into accreditation documents
 - b. B – indicates standards applicable to baccalaureate programs only
 - c. M – indicates standards applicable to master’s programs only
6. Web-based hyperlinks to content that substantiates compliance with a standard will not be accepted.
- a. BOA members/staff will not search websites for requested information.
 - b. All required compliance information must be documented via a narrative response to the standard.
 - c. Narrative included in a table is acceptable, unless a separate narrative is required as specified in the Accreditation Standard Interpretations & Tips section of this document.
7. Programs with multiple program options are expected to explicitly address each program option in response to each accreditation standard.
8. Required forms (select Self-Study Forms) must be submitted with your self-study or benchmark in response to the accreditation standards.
9. Sample curriculum matrices and assessment plans are available which will be helpful in the preparation of the self-study/benchmark document.
10. The self-study/benchmark content must reflect information, operations, and offerings current at the time of submission of the document.
- a. All information submitted in the self-study/benchmark should be current and accurate at the point of submission.
 - b. The only exception is the program’s assessment data. For assessment data, programs should submit their most current set of outcomes/data (which may reflect prior, yet still recent, data points).
 - a. Framing: consider the self-study/benchmark as a rolling snapshot of where the program currently is; not reflecting back on previous or outdated operations and information. Programs discuss the current educational environment rather than explaining how elements of the program have changed since their last accreditation review cycle.

- b. While the document may capture the year prior to submission of the self-study/benchmark, the program should be cognizant to update their accreditation documents regarding any changes that strengthen compliance.
 - 1. The most frequent changes include composition of faculty, students, staff, other personnel; adding/removing program options; updated assessment data; updates to policies or procedures; or enhancements made to program operations to strengthen compliance with the EPAS.
 - 2. This list is not exhaustive, so it is important to ensure that all information, personnel, operations, program options, and data captured in the self-study are current, accurate, and aligned with the EPAS. Review policy 4.9 Program Changes in the Accreditation Policy Handbook for more information on program changes.
- c. With regard to program personnel, the program should capture the most up-to-date information in the benchmark/self-study to the best of their ability. This ensures the BOA member/site visitor has access to current faculty and personnel information reflecting those with whom they will meet during their visit.
- d. In the self-study, programs should capture all components they wish to have accredited/reaffirmed for compliance with the EPAS. Remember that programs are requesting the BOA to accredit/affirm these operations for the next eight (8) years. So, the self-study/benchmark should capture the program's best compliance plan that reflects current operations now and moving forward for the next eight (8) years.
 - 2. Review policy 4.9 Program Changes in the Accreditation Policy Handbook for more information on program changes between review cycles.
- e. Submitting outdated information in the self-study, benchmark, or other accreditation documents may result in a citation or other action by the BOA in order to request the most current and accurate program materials.

11. Self-study/benchmark document writing tips:

- a. The self-study or benchmark is your opportunity to tell the program's story to the BOA.
- b. Programs are the experts on their educational programs and are tasked with candidly, clearly, and concisely articulating the reality of how the program has implemented and complies with the standards.
- c. BOA members appreciate clear and concise narrative. Information provided should always directly relate to the standard to which the program is responding. Do not include information beyond what the standard is requesting.
- d. Since BOA members read for minimum compliance with the EPAS, verbose and elaborate writing styles are discouraged.
- e. The BOA cannot make assumptions; describe how the programs complies with each component of the standard.
- f. When the standard requires written policies and procedures, they must be copied/pasted directly into the accreditation document and the location cited (e.g., handbook, manual). Do not provide a link or a summary of the process in lieu of full policies and procedures.

- g. BOA members trust that programs are disclosing complete and accurate information.
- h. Policy 4.7 Document Formatting Submission Requirements in the Accreditation Policy Handbook provides formatting and submission requirements for each type of accreditation document.
- i. Team-based approaches are highly recommended. When possible, the DOSWA encourages administrators, full-time and part-time faculty, staff, students, field instructors, board members, and other relevant program stakeholders to understand and participate in the accreditation process. Continuous accreditation efforts, including periodic reaffirmation reviews, are owned by and affect the entire program.
- j. Optional Tool: Self-Study/Benchmark Team Approach Grid

Submitting an Accreditation Document

12. Policy 4.7 Document Formatting Submission Requirements in the Accreditation Policy Handbook provides formatting and submission requirements for each type of accreditation document.
- a. Accreditation is paperless! Zero physical copies of accreditation documents are required. E-copies only will be accepted.
 - b. Submissions are solely accepted via email.
 - 1. Documents sent via the cloud (e.g., OneDrive, SharePoint, Google Drive, Dropbox), CD, SD, or DVD will not be accepted.
 - c. Submit all documents in Microsoft Word or searchable PDF Format (unless otherwise noted in policy 4.7). Scanned documents are not accepted.
 - d. Appendices: Information and relevant documentation for each standard must be included directly in response to that standard (not as appendices). This includes all forms, matrices, and tables.
 - 2. While the BOA may accept information that is misplaced within the document, for example if it is not placed under the correct/relevant standard, BOA members will not search through the document for requested information.
 - 3. All relevant compliance information should be included directly in response to the corresponding standard.
 - 4. When inserting tables or graphics to articulate compliance, a narrative response to the standard must accompany the table or graphic. Alternatively, the narrative may be embedded directly in the table or graphic.
13. Each separately accredited baccalaureate and master's program are individually evaluated for compliance by the BOA.
- a. Each program must submit independent self-studies or benchmark documents.
 - b. Special note for collaborative programs: Collaboratives share responsibility for documenting a combined compliance plan representative of and applicable to all institutions for each accreditation standard. Thus, collaboratives may only submit one (1) benchmark/self-study document, comprised of volumes 1-3. All other accreditation-related documents must also reflect one (1) submission, inclusive of all relevant collaborative information. Multiple documents/submissions tailored to each institution will not be accepted.

1. Collaboratives may submit some duplicate benchmark/self-study required forms to demonstrate compliance across all institutions. The forms that may be submitted for each institution are: faculty summary form, faculty data forms (CVs), budget form, and librarian's report.

14. The review brief is the rubric BOA will use to evaluate compliance.

- a. As you write a self-study (reaffirmation) or benchmark (candidacy), use the corresponding Review Brief and this Interpretation Guide to ensure all compliance statements for each standard are addressed.
- a. Use the compliance statements and subheadings to clearly address each component of the standard
- b. Explicitly address each program option in response to each standard.

15. Common types of accreditation documents:

- a. Self-study: (Reaffirmation & Initial Accreditation) A formal process during which the educational program critically examines its structure, content, strengths, areas for improvement, effectiveness, and enhancement plans in alignment with the EPAS. The self-study is the mechanism for documenting compliance with the accreditation standards every eight (8) years.
- b. Benchmark: (Candidacy) A formal process during which a new educational program documents compliance with a portion of accreditation standards over a three-year period leading to a four-year initial accreditation period.
- c. Visit Report: Composed by a qualified and trained visitor, this report documents the clarifying information provided to the visitor via onsite discussion and dialogue with the program. Visitors are under the jurisdiction of the BOA and do not determine compliance; they are information gatherers. There are two (2) types of visitors:
 1. Site Visitor = Reaffirmation
 2. BOA Member/Visitor = Candidacy
- d. Program Response to a Visit Report: A program's formal written response to the visitor's report documenting compliance with all items raised in the (1) Letter of Instruction (LOI) and (2) Site Visit Report (Reaffirmation) or Candidacy Visit Report (Candidacy). This is the program's final opportunity to demonstrate and document compliance in their own voice prior to receiving a decision from the BOA.
- e. Program Response to a Deferral: A program's formal written response to the BOA's request for clarifying information upon which they make an informed decision about the program's compliance with the EPAS. Responses to deferrals may use current/updated information or further clarify/expand upon the same information provided in the previous submission.
- f. Progress Report: A program's formal written response to all outstanding concerns for which the program has not clearly demonstrated compliance during an accreditation review process. Progress reports require updated/current information documenting the program's progression.

- g. Restoration Report: A program's formal written response to all outstanding noncompliance issues for which the program did not demonstrate compliance during an accreditation review process. Restoration reports require updated/current information documenting the program's evidence of compliance to restore full accredited status.
- h. Substantive Change Proposal: A program's proposal documenting its compliance plan when preparing to offer a new program option in between accreditation review cycles. Policy 4.9 Program Changes in the Accreditation Policy Handbook provides detailed policies and procedures for submitting a Substantive change Proposal.

16. If major changes are planned or experienced during your reaffirmation cycle, it is important to contact the program's accreditation specialist to discuss the change and how to report it.

- a. Per policy 4.9 Program Changes in the Accreditation Policy Handbook: "The program should not implement any changes that require a Substantive Change Proposal during the candidacy or reaffirmation process. The candidacy process begins with the submission of the benchmark 1 document and ends with an initial accreditation decision. The reaffirmation process begins with the submission of the self-study and ends with a reaffirmation decision."

Understanding the BOA Review Process

1. Accreditation reviews occur at the three (3) BOA meetings annually: February, June, and October/November.
2. Each accreditation specialist collaborates with a workgroup of six (6) BOA members (i.e., BOA readers). This workgroup reviews documents and collaborates in preparation for BOA meetings.
3. The specialist assigns each document to two (2) BOA readers.
 - o BOA readers do not review materials from previous cycles or previously submitted materials (unless otherwise specified in policy)
4. Various types of documents may also be assigned by the BOA to the specialist for review (e.g., progress reports, substantive changes).
5. The BOA readers complete independent reviews.
6. The reviews are sent to the specialist, compiled, and sent back to the readers for reconciling the decision type and each citation.
7. Any decisions or citations where agreement is not met, are brought to the workgroup for resolution during the BOA meeting.
8. The workgroup finalizes all decision types and citations.
9. All decisions are voted on and ratified by the full BOA.
10. Programs are informed by the specialist of the decision, specifics, rationale, and any next steps after the meeting concludes.

- All final/official signed BOA letters are sent 30 days after the meeting per policy 3.13 Decision Letters in the Accreditation Policy Handbook

Minimum Compliance Framework

- The Board of Accreditation (BOA) reviews programs through “minimum compliance” lens.
- Staff also train programs to set goals for minimum compliance requirements using the EPAS, Interpretation Guide, and other BOA-sanctioned materials.
- Programs are welcome to go above and beyond minimum compliance, incorporate best-practices, or innovate as long as the program is meeting the minimum requirements of the standard.
- Programs have the flexibility to craft excellent educational experiences that exceed the EPAS minimum requirements.
- CSWE-BOA sets the floor; programs set the ceiling.

DOSWA Consultation Services

While accreditation staff may provide consultative services regarding the accreditation process and EPAS, the BOA has sole and complete authority as the final arbiter of compliance with the EPAS. The program is solely responsible for implementing, demonstrating, and maintaining compliance with the EPAS.

Each accredited program is assigned one (1) accreditation specialist with whom they may collaborate. Accreditation specialists:

- Provide customized consultation on the accreditation process, EPAS, and BOA interpretations, via phone, e-mail, video, and/or in-person at CSWE’s Annual Program Meeting (APM) and other professional conferences.
 - YouCanBookMe scheduling app conveniently linked in each specialist’s email signature
 - Appointments are available to social work education programs only; not members of the public
 - Appointments may only be booked by the program’s selected primary contact and/or their designees (per policy 4.1 Primary Contact & Accreditation Communications in the Accreditation Policy Handbook)
 - For public inquiries, feel empowered to call CSWE headquarters at (703) 683-8080 to locate the staff member who can best respond to your question(s) or review DOSWA’s Whom to Contact info sheet
- Develop and maintain accreditation templates, forms, and resources
- Communicate BOA decisions, rationales, and letters
- Provide guidance in navigating the reaffirmation or candidacy process and changes between review cycles
- Provide accurate accreditation-related information and resources to programs and the public
- Assist in understanding accreditation policies and procedures

- Conduct virtual trainings and offer educational opportunities to accredited and candidate programs; at the annual APM; and/or online year-round
- Train and support site visitors and BOA volunteers
- Collaborate in individualized and group settings with programs in their efforts to reach their accreditation goals
- Manage the BOA document review process
- Liaise between the BOA and the program in communicating citations, decisions, rationales for decision-making, and next steps
- Communicate with the program’s selected primary contact (per policy 4.1 Primary Contact & Accreditation Communications in the Accreditation Policy Handbook) and designees authorized by the primary contact to speak with the accreditation specialist
- Do not conduct document reviews, provide written feedback, nor offer live or on-demand reviews of written materials
- Do not determine compliance/noncompliance as the BOA has sole and final authority as the arbiter of compliance in regulation decision-making

Always confirm accuracy of accreditation-related information with the program’s assigned accreditation specialist.

Communications with DOSWA & BOA

Per policy 4.1 Primary Contact & Accreditation Communications in the Accreditation Policy Handbook, “Each accredited program selects one (1) primary contact. To streamline communication, the primary contact’s responsibility is to represent the program in all exchanges with CSWE and the public.” Review the policy to become familiar with the primary contact’s scope of responsibilities and procedures for updating the primary contact.

Periodic accreditation updates are emailed to each program’s primary contact after BOA meetings. An Accreditation News Archive is also publicly available on the accreditation webpages of the CSWE website.

Changes Between Accreditation Review Cycles

The accreditation status obtained at initial accreditation or reaffirmation only covers the components that were reviewed in the self-study at the time of the BOA review. Changes may take place within the program prior to its next scheduled accreditation review; however, some program changes impact compliance with EPAS and require reporting to the BOA or DOSWA per policy 4.9 Program Changes in the Accreditation Policy Handbook. Changes that do not require reporting are also addressed. Accreditation is an elective, program-driven, and self-managed peer-review process. Programs are solely responsible for implementing, demonstrating, and maintaining compliance with the EPAS during and in-between review cycles.

Educational Policy 1.0—Program Mission and Goals

The mission and goals of each social work program address the profession’s purpose, are grounded in core professional values, and are informed by program context.

Values

Service, social justice, the dignity and worth of the person, the importance of human relationships, integrity, competence, human rights, and scientific inquiry are among the core values of social work. These values underpin the explicit and implicit curriculum and frame the profession’s commitment to respect for all people and the quest for social and economic justice.

Program Context

Context encompasses the mission of the institution in which the program is located, and the needs and opportunities associated with the setting and program options. Programs are further influenced by their practice communities, which are informed by their historical, political, economic, environmental, social, cultural, demographic, local, regional, and global contexts and by the ways they elect to engage these factors. Additional factors include new knowledge, technology, and ideas that may have a bearing on contemporary and future social work education, practice, and research.

The social work program’s mission and goals reflect the profession’s purpose and values and the program’s context.

Explicit Curriculum

The explicit curriculum constitutes the program's formal educational structure and includes the courses and field education used for each of its program options. Social work education is grounded in the liberal arts, which provide the intellectual basis for the professional curriculum and inform its design. Using a competency-based education framework, the explicit curriculum prepares students for professional practice at the baccalaureate and master's levels. Baccalaureate programs prepare students for generalist practice. Master's programs prepare students for generalist practice and specialized practice. The explicit curriculum, including field education, may include forms of technology as a component of the curriculum.

Educational Policy 2.0—Generalist Practice

Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person-in-environment framework. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with diverse individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities based on scientific inquiry and best practices. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels. Generalist practitioners engage diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice.

The baccalaureate program in social work prepares students for generalist practice. The descriptions of the nine Social Work Competencies presented in the EPAS identify the knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes, and behaviors associated with competence at the generalist level of practice.

The nine Social Work Competencies are listed in the EPAS on pp. 7-9. Programs may add competencies that are consistent with their mission and goals and respond to their context. The descriptions of the nine Social Work Competencies presented in the EPAS identify the knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes, and behaviors associated with competence at the generalist level of practice.

Competency 1: Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior

Competency 2: Engage Diversity and Difference in Practice

Competency 3: Advance Human Rights and Social, Economic, and Environmental Justice

Competency 4: Engage In Practice-informed Research and Research-informed Practice

Competency 5: Engage in Policy Practice

Educational Policy M2.1—Specialized Practice

Specialized practice builds on generalist practice as described in EP 2.0, adapting and extending the Social Work Competencies for practice with a specific population, problem area, method of intervention, perspective or approach to practice. Specialized practice augments and extends social work knowledge, values, and skills to engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate within an area of specialization. Specialized practitioners advocate with and on behalf of clients and constituencies in their area of specialized practice. Specialized practitioners synthesize and employ a broad range of interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary knowledge and skills based on scientific inquiry and best practices, and consistent with social work values. Specialized practitioners engage in and conduct research to inform and improve practice, policy, and service delivery.

The master’s program in social work prepares students for specialized practice. Programs identify the specialized knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes, and behaviors that extend and enhance the nine Social Work Competencies and prepare students for practice in the area of specialization.

Educational Policy 2.2—Signature Pedagogy: Field Education

Signature pedagogies are elements of instruction and of socialization that teach future practitioners the fundamental dimensions of professional work in their discipline—to think, to perform, and to act ethically and with integrity. Field education is the signature pedagogy for social work. The intent of field education is to integrate the theoretical and conceptual contribution of the classroom with the practical world of the practice setting. It is a basic precept of social work education that the two interrelated components of curriculum—classroom and field—are of equal importance within the curriculum, and each contributes to the development of the requisite competencies of professional practice. Field education is systematically designed, supervised, coordinated, and evaluated based on criteria by which students demonstrate the Social Work Competencies. Field education may integrate forms of technology as a component of the program.

Implicit Curriculum

The implicit curriculum refers to the learning environment in which the explicit curriculum is presented. It is composed of the following elements: the program’s commitment to diversity; admissions policies and procedures; advisement, retention, and termination policies; student participation in governance; faculty; administrative structure; and resources. The implicit curriculum is manifested through policies that are fair and transparent in substance and implementation, the qualifications of the faculty, and the adequacy and fair distribution of resources. The culture of human interchange; the spirit of inquiry; the support for difference and diversity; and the values and priorities in the educational environment, including the field setting, inform the student’s learning and development. The implicit curriculum is as important as the explicit curriculum in shaping the professional character and competence of the program’s graduates. Heightened awareness of the importance of the implicit curriculum promotes an educational culture that is congruent with the values of the profession and the mission, goals, and context of the program.

Educational Policy 3.0—Diversity

The program’s expectation for diversity is reflected in its learning environment, which provides the context through which students learn about differences, to value and respect diversity, and develop a commitment to cultural humility. The dimensions of diversity are understood as the intersectionality of multiple factors including but not limited to age, class, color, culture, disability and ability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, marital status, political ideology, race, religion/ spirituality, sex, sexual orientation, and tribal sovereign status. The learning environment consists of the program’s institutional setting; selection of field education settings and their clientele; composition of program advisory or field committees; educational and social resources; resource allocation; program leadership; speaker series, seminars, and special programs; support groups; research and other initiatives; and the demographic make-up of its faculty, staff, and student body.

Educational Policy 3.1—Student Development

Educational preparation and commitment to the profession are essential qualities in the admission and development of students for professional practice. Student participation in formulating and modifying policies affecting academic and student affairs are important for students’ professional development. To promote the social work education continuum, graduates of baccalaureate social work programs admitted to master’s social work programs are presented with an articulated pathway toward specialized practice.

Educational Policy 3.2—Faculty

Faculty qualifications, including experience related to the Social Work Competencies, an appropriate student-faculty ratio, and sufficient faculty to carry out a program’s mission and goals, are essential for developing an educational environment that promotes, emulates, and teaches students the knowledge, values, and skills expected of professional social workers. Through their teaching, research, scholarship, and service—as well as their interactions with one another, administration, students, and community—the program’s faculty models the behavior and values expected of professional social workers. Programs demonstrate that faculty is qualified to teach the courses to which they are assigned.

Educational Policy 3.3—Administrative and Governance Structure

Social work faculty and administrators, based on their education, knowledge, and skills, are best suited to make decisions regarding the delivery of social work education. Faculty and administrators exercise autonomy in designing an administrative and leadership structure, developing curriculum, and formulating and implementing policies that support the education of competent social workers. The administrative structure is sufficient to carry out the program’s mission and goals. In recognition of the importance of field education as the signature pedagogy, programs must provide an administrative structure and adequate resources for systematically designing, supervising, coordinating, and evaluating field education across all program options.

Educational Policy 4.0—Assessment of Student Learning Outcomes

Assessment is an integral component of competency-based education. Assessment involves the systematic gathering of data about student performance of Social Work Competencies at both the generalist and specialized levels of practice.

Competence is perceived as holistic, involving both performance and the knowledge, values, critical thinking, affective reactions, and exercise of judgment that inform performance. Assessment therefore must be multi-dimensional and integrated to capture the demonstration of the competencies and the quality of internal processing informing the performance of the competencies. Assessment is best done while students are engaged in practice tasks or activities that approximate social work practice as closely as possible. Practice often requires the performance of multiple competencies simultaneously; therefore, assessment of those competencies may optimally be carried out at the same time.

Programs assess students' demonstration of the Social Work Competencies through the use of multi-dimensional assessment methods. Assessment methods are developed to gather data that serve as evidence of student learning outcomes and the demonstration of competence. Understanding social work practice is complex and multi-dimensional, the assessment methods used, and the data collected may vary by context.

Assessment information is used to guide student learning, assess student outcomes, assess and improve effectiveness of the curriculum, and strengthen the assessment methods used.

Assessment also involves gathering data regarding the implicit curriculum, which may include but is not limited to an assessment of diversity, student development, faculty, administrative and governance structure, and resources. Data from assessment continuously inform and promote change in the explicit curriculum and the implicit curriculum to enhance attainment of Social Work Competencies.

Accreditation Standard 4.0—Assessment

Accreditation Standard 4.0.1: The program presents its plan for ongoing assessment of student outcomes for all identified competencies in the generalist level of practice (baccalaureate social work programs) and the generalist and specialized levels of practice (master's social work programs). Assessment of competence is done by program designated faculty or field personnel. The plan includes:

- A description of the assessment procedures that detail when, where, and how each competency is assessed for each program option.
- At least two measures assess each competency. One of the assessment measures is based on demonstration of the competency in real or simulated practice situations.
- An explanation of how the assessment plan measures multiple dimensions of each competency, as described in EP 4.0.

- Benchmarks for each competency, a rationale for each benchmark, and a description of how it is determined that students’ performance meets the benchmark.
- An explanation of how the program determines the percentage of students achieving the benchmark.
- Copies of all assessment measures used to assess all identified competencies.

The program discusses implications for program renewal and specific changes it has made based on these assessment outcomes.
COMPLIANCE STATEMENTS	BOA INTERPRETATIONS & WRITING CHECKLIST	TIPS

For each program option, the narrative provides the program's plan for assessing the implicit curriculum, including program-defined stakeholders.

- Assessment must occur at the program-level, not at the department- or institution-level. A program-specific plan must be presented.
- Assess at least one (1) area of the implicit curriculum as defined in EP 4.0 (e.g., diversity, student development, faculty, administrative and governance structure, resources).
- Explicitly state the implicit curriculum area(s) assessed.
 - The implicit curriculum area(s) assessed must be clearly connected to the implicit curriculum definition (pg. 14, EPAS).
- Optional: Assessing different implicit curriculum area(s) annually is permitted.
- Qualitative, quantitative, or mixed methods measures are permitted.
- Evaluations of job placement rates and graduation or admissions rates may be considered implicit curriculum assessment measures if the program provides narrative clearly connecting the measure to the implicit curriculum definition (pg. 14, EPAS).
- Student feedback measures requesting students evaluate, rate, or rank implicit curriculum area(s) are permitted.
 - Student self-assessment of competence is not an implicit curriculum measure.
- Explicitly state which stakeholder group(s) is assessing the implicit curriculum.
 - Stakeholders include: students, staff, faculty, administrators, alumni, field instructors, committees, community advisory board members, etc.
- Optional: Sampling is permitted.
- Explicitly address each program option.

- Implicit curriculum refers to the learning environment in which the explicit curriculum is presented.
 - It is composed of the following elements:
 - the program's commitment to diversity;
 - admissions policies and procedures;
 - advisement, retention, and termination policies;
 - student participation in governance;
 - faculty;
 - administrative structure; and
 - resources.
 - The implicit curriculum is manifested through policies that are fair and transparent in substance and implementation, the qualifications of the faculty, and the adequacy and fair distribution of resources.
 - The culture of human interchange; the spirit of inquiry; the support for difference and diversity; and the values and priorities in the educational environment, including the field setting, inform the student's learning and development.
 - The implicit curriculum is as important as the explicit curriculum in shaping the professional character and competence of the program's graduates.
 - Heightened awareness of the importance of the implicit curriculum promotes an educational culture that is congruent with the values of the profession and the mission, goals, and context of the program (pg. 14 of the EPAS).
